CPR: Kara Powers (daughter-in-law to Janeen Butson) who is a CPR instructor, has graciously volunteered to provide a basic CPR training session for anyone who is interested. This would be a practical, hands-on introduction to CPR and what to do in an emergency. Please note that this is not a certification course, but rather an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of CPR and gain confidence in responding should the need ever arise. If you would like to participate, please let Marsha know of your interest TODAY. Once we have an idea of the number of participants, we will announce the date and time for the training.
